

unbridled leadership

Horses don't care about your title - they always give immediate and brutally honest feedback. When you lead effectively, they follow; when you don't, they won't. Their survival instincts seek authentic leadership—the kind that transforms organizations. Unbridled Leadership is the world's best experience for developing confident humility and motivating people through clear communication. These horses demand peak performance and your very best effort. It's the kind of engagement that produces profound insights on your personal leadership brand and the best methods for improved results. There truly is nothing like a relationship with a horse that molds the essential characteristics of a profound leader.

Learning Outcomes

Module Length
Full Day or 2 Day

- Leadership. Develop confident humility by balancing personal strengths, individual responsibility, and genuine empathy—the essential qualities a horse craves.
- Motivation and Engagement. Horses can typify common engagement misconceptions. They'll help you identify misperceptions as you work toward real-life high stakes issues your team faces.
- Communication. Take responsibility for communication style and delegation. An equine partner will help you will develop synergistic relationships through intentional and clear communication inspired

learning group

www.inspiredLG.com