

The Net Worth Game for Teams

Are you working smart or simply working? This captivating simulation will build communication, negotiation, and trust as you work closely with others to "maximize your net worth". Each group is given a bag full of money, jewels, chips, and information. These key assets are needed to create a cohesive strategy. But being too bold may be a risk because each decision reveals a little more about your character—impacting team dynamics. These scenarios highlight who you are as a leader and how smart you are working as a team.

This interactive game is ideal for teams that want to enhance:

-  Communication. Everyone will have an opinion on how to make more. Will you listen, learn, and earn?
-  Collaboration. The game has risks and rewards. Work together to find the right negotiation strategy.
-  Motivation. Success breeds motivation. Find out what keeps your team engaged with the right rewards.

We know the importance of a truly cohesive team. A positive environment is crucial to meeting goals, increasing sales, and building culture. That's why our team-building activities are fun and engaging; but they're also opportunities for your people to learn from each other. Each experience will strike the right balance of entertainment and learning—in alignment with your organization's unique needs.

COST

$100 per participant

Minimum 20 people*

*Does not include facility fee or material cost

TIME

1–2 hours

inspired learning group